Chapter 7 – Specialty Itineraries

If you're looking for something beyond the traditional Caribbean or Alaska cruise, specialty itineraries offer unforgettable experiences that are perfect for adventurous travelers and bucket-list vacations.

■ Panama Canal Cruises

Sail through one of the world's greatest engineering achievements while visiting destinations in Central America, the Caribbean, and the Pacific. These cruises are often 10–16 nights and are ideal for travelers who enjoy history and scenic cruising.

■■ Iceland Cruises

Discover dramatic waterfalls, volcanic landscapes, black-sand beaches, geothermal hot springs, and charming coastal villages. Iceland is a favorite for nature lovers and photographers.

■ Antarctica Expeditions

Experience one of the most remote places on Earth. Expedition cruises feature zodiac landings, towering icebergs, penguins, seals, whales, and expert naturalists who bring this extraordinary destination to life.

■ Why Choose a Specialty Itinerary?

Specialty cruises are ideal for travelers who have already enjoyed traditional cruise destinations or who are looking for a once-in-a-lifetime adventure. They often provide unique experiences that can't be found anywhere else.
